MEMORANDUM FOR

Consultants, President's Science Advisory Committee

Attached for your study and guidance is a memorandum from the President on Preventing Conflicts of Interest on the Part of Advisers and Consultants to the Government. This memorandum sets forth both legal and ethical considerations applying to Government Consultants.

In order for this office to carry out its responsibility to avoid the use of the services of consultants or advisers in situations in which violation of the conflict-of-interest laws or of these regulations may occur, it is necessary for you to supply a statement of your private employment and financial interests. The statement should indicate the names of all the companies, firms, research organizations and educational institutions which you are serving as employee, officer, member, director, or consultant, and the companies in which you have any other financial interest, such as the ownership of securities or other interests which have a significant financial value. You need not reveal precise amounts of investments.

Your cooperation in submitting the necessary information to this office at your earliest convenience will be greatly appreciated. Please let me know if I can be of assistance to you in connection with the President's memorandum.
